Introduction

The Relocation Chart

A relocation chart is simply an ordinary natal horoscope moved to a different location. It's a chart cast for the same cosmic instant of birth, but looked at from another location, as if the birth happened there. The planets' sign positions all remain the same, but they will appear in different houses at different locations, thus altering their strengths and areas of influence. So, if you were born in New York, for instance, and then moved to Paris, your relocation chart would have any first house planets shifted about 90 degrees clockwise into the tenth house; tenth house planets would be shifted into the seventh house, and so on, thus giving your natal chart a whole new look for your Parisian adventures. In fact, if it turns out to be a significant improvement, you might even want to move there. Or, perhaps you might just want to visit when you are doing the kind of things that your Paris relocation chart favors -- work, play, health, creativity -- depending on your planets' relocated house positions.

The Relocation Map

Although any one relocation chart opens up new possibilities for you when you travel, if you put a lot of them together and trace them on a map you get a set of marked-out roads of opportunity that stretch around the world, each of which will add strength and emphasis to specific parts of your personality and potential. There is a geographical ribbon running many thousands of miles around the globe, every mile of which gives you Mars rising, adding to your energy and individual power whenever you are on it. Another gives you the Sun rising, another, the Moon, and so on. Around the other side of the earth are similar routes on which your planets are always exactly setting, on the cusp of the seventh house. Similarly, there are north-south pathways each 12,000 miles long where individual planets are on your Midheaven or IC if you go to them. Together, they make up an often-intersecting set of personal highways, a grid of 40 planetary lines that mark out your chart's strongest places for relocation, where one or more natal planets are on the angles.

And if that's not enough potential roads to travel on, there are a total of 180 global lines that depict where your 45 major planetary midpoints are on the angles, adding a subtle substructure to your planetary potential. Altogether, they depict your own personal World Wide Web of highways and byways that add special strengths to your chart and promise new heightened adventure and return for simply taking a trip. You'll find that there's hardly a place on the planet you can go without discovering a new slant on life, a new take on what you already have working inside you.

Windows Of Opportunity

Finally, as your personal progressions and transits move along and affect your natal chart, these same changes will be touching your relocation chart as well, but often quite differently. This will mean that certain parts of the world open up as unique windows of opportunity for a limited, but golden time. A look at these will tell you not only where to travel, but when is the optimum time to be there as well. Find out the best of where and when, and then book your ticket, with the stars on your side.

The Armchair Traveler

You don't have to actually show up at a strong relocation place to have it affect you. You may well find that areas where you have locality planets, midpoints, transits, or progressions on the angles have a way of waltzing into your life unannounced, or that you'll find yourself dealing with people who live there in a way that is described by your chart in that locality. In the era of electronic world travel, you may not need to go out of your door to find your different relocation charts working for you.

Local Space Astrology by Michael Erlewine

If you were to walk outside your home at the moment of birth and look around you, the Sun, Moon, and planets would each be somewhere in the sky above and around you. For example, the Moon might be rising low to the Southwest, and so forth. If you were to draw a line from your birth spot in the compass direction of the Moon, it would extend across (and around) the Earth, passing through any number of cities. The circular line of those cities and places mark a path across the earth toward the direction of the Moon. If you did this for the Sun and all the planets, you would be examining a map of the space surrounding your locale. That map would be a standard geographical map with the direction of each planet laid out on it as lines. This is why I originally called this technique Local Space Astrology.

At any given moment, the Sun, Moon, and all the planets are above a certain spot on earth and in a particular direction from your birthplace. In fact, not only planets and stars, but also cities, countries, and even the local water tower or the neighbor's house has a place and direction on this map. It does not matter how far away an object is, we only want to know in what direction it is. You can walk toward, write letters to, or get up and relocate into, for instance, the direction of Venus or Mars, and we each do this all the time.

Local Space maps are useful when it comes to relocation and/or when we want to pick a city (and direction) of a planet we would like to experience more of, like perhaps Venus (love, beauty, value) or Jupiter (might help us find our life path or career), and so forth. There are also planets we might like to experience less of, as well, so we might avoid those spots. But these lines are also great for picking spots for vacation and business trips, as well as checking out where friends and not-so-friends live. It could be someone all the way in China or as close as a neighbor's house.

Understanding Local Space allows you to fine tune your life by picking the places you live or want to visit in terms of what they can add or take away from your overall life experience. For example, if you are struggling to find the right career, you might want to take a trip or have a vacation in the direction of the planet Jupiter (the planet of vocation) and see what develops. Or, as I myself did, you may want to permanently relocate to a Jupiter spot until you can find your way to making a living. Or, if you find yourself living in a city along your Saturn line and you feel too hemmed in and inhibited, you might want to just move to a city in line with a planet that is more encouraging. You get the idea.

Check out your Local Space Chart and look at each line to see in what direction it is and what cities or places it passes through. Read about and consider what each planet offers you in the way of qualities and changes. Don't forget about the places where your friends and not-so-friends live, whether they are far away cities or just across town. Give it some thought. Local Space can be very useful in fine-tuning your life experience through astrology.

Angles in Signs

Ascendant in Virgo

You'll be wise to play your cards a little carefully in this environment, or at least make it seem that you are. If it looks like you're picking up every stitch, you can let some go and get away with it, as long as you play the part. If you show you know your proper place, the place will be yours.

Midheaven in Gemini

This is certainly a place where people will talk about you, so you may have reason to keep an especially close ear to what they're saying. You can go far on a favorable breeze, but things can turn on you rather suddenly, so make sure you know local protocol and always have some specific backup options available.

Planets on Angles

Any planet on one of the angles (Ascendant, MC, Descendant, IC) of your relocation chart will be greatly strengthened when you are at the place of relocation, very much like if it were on the angles of your natal chart. If the Sun is on an angle, you'll have more confidence; if Mars is there you'll have more energy, and so on. Moreover, you don't have to actually go there to get the effect. Having a planet on a relocated angle will accentuate that place for you even if you are only doing business with people there over the phone. You have an accentuated quality to people in such places that you may not have elsewhere.

Natal Mercury On DS (Strong)

You can lead with your head here in ways that might be more difficult elsewhere. Somehow what you say will get across more clearly and your ability to analyze situations will be particularly strong. In a similar vein, you'll be able to pick up on the local lingo especially well; so if you have to go to a second language, you'll be able to do so more swiftly and communicate well despite initial language barriers. It is as if you find a shared mindset which you can immediately address because you already know what's being said, since it's what you were talking about to begin with. Remember, however, that head, heart, and hand are different functions, and though you may agree intellectually, there may be other subtexts that aren't so unusually in tune, so don't presume you've got everything surrounded just because you think you do. Agreements spoken or put on paper may come with ease, but take care that when the discussion is over you are all really on the same page at unspoken levels as well. When all is said and done, what's done is done and what's said may be only worth the paper it's written on. Nevertheless, you've got a distinct working advantage here.

Mercury in Seventh House

This can be just the place to come for an influx of ideas from new associates, others in your line of interest or work. The new partner that perfectly fills out the other part of your personal plans may be awaiting you here, so keep an eye out. At any rate, you'll find lots to think about if you let others in.

Natal Venus Tri MC (Strong)

Good things will just naturally be said about you here, which will aid your PR attempts no doubt. You'll find yourself gravitating toward professional choices you really like, and vice versa, so it's a good place to steer your career. If you like it, they'll hear about it and come along and give you some.

Venus in Fifth House

You might want to play all day and night, at least when you first get here, so parcel up your pleasures and enjoy them one at a time so as not to waste the taste. You can be serious without seeming serious, get what you want by only seeming to put your toe in the water. It's just the game you want, so relax and enjoy it.

Natal Sun Sqr MC (Strong)

What they say about you here may not accurately reflect the person you really are inside, so some extra steps to get out the PR would probably be a good idea. If they don't get the message the first time, do a follow-up until the real you is what's being represented to the general public. Speak up for yourself, then do it again.

Sun in Sixth House

This may be more a place to come for work than for play, but the change could do you good, nevertheless. New habits you pick up can serve you well, and there's a lot to be learned from the surroundings, perhaps more than you think. If you roll up your sleeves and dig in, you'll find the payback is plenty.

Natal Uranus Sxt AS (Strong)

This can be a land of discovery for you if you ease yourself into it on a personal basis. Just show up and look for something different, and the chances are you'll find it. It's partly about what's there, and partly about the fresh pair of eyes you bring to the situation that gives everybody a new look.

Uranus in Eleventh House

Your best friends here are to be found in the most unexpected places, so keep your eyes open for suspicious movements -- it might be the start of something really great. Intimacy runs quick and hot or not at all, so rejoice in the intensity of the moment that springs on you and devours you with its passion.

Natal Pluto Local Space Line (Strong)

The Pluto line points to power places, often where people are forced to do things or where they force others. Equally, this can relate to penetrating insight into our most vulnerable areas, into sensitive parts of our past or mind -- the skeletons in our closet. Psychoanalysis, depth psychology, investigations, and research are included.

A trip to a Pluto place can provide deep insights of great value, but can just as easily find you face-to-face with some of your most vulnerable issues. You could find yourself being pushed around or pushing someone else around, and power and the use of it is the coin of this realm.

Pluto in Twelfth House

When push comes to shove, somebody loses, and in this environment it's likely to be you unless you choose your confrontations with the greatest care. When you think you can power through a situation, chances are you're dreaming and headed for a fall. If you must, take a leaf from the Borgias, and do it carefully and behind closed doors.

Natal Mercury Local Space Line (Medium)

A location that furthers connections and communications of all kinds, whether by phone, e-mail, letter -- anything spoken and written. In addition, places along this line are perfect for furthering the mind, things to do with study, academics, and schooling -- whatever relates to the mind and how to use it.

If you like to communicate or need to be able to better communicate and, generally, use the mind more fully, whether as a student or a teacher, locations along this line will enhance this.

Natal Moon Local Space Line (Medium)

The Moon points to places where you can look to for support and nourishment, an environment that is usually nurturing and protective. This is a location where feelings, nostalgia, and the past are important, where younger people have a voice, and the sense of family is strong.

The Moon is said to be both mother and child. As a mother, it represents the past, in the sense of where you came from, your roots and history. In this role, it is nurturing and like a parent. You came from there.

But it also is like your child, in that you can look back at your youth and roots (where you came from) and see younger people living there now, as you used to live. In this sense, it is like your child, something you understand only too well.

Moon in Seventh House

This is a good place to rediscover the emotional side of yourself, especially as reflected in someone else. People here can be a mirror to your feelings, so you are better understood all around. A good place for doing any kind of business as long as it involves the way you really are, not just business as usual.

Natal Jupiter Local Space Line (Medium)

Jupiter places can be the keys to career and vocational matters, literally the path we tread through the obstacles of life. In Sanskrit, the word for Jupiter is guru, and that says a lot, for the guru is the guide personified. Getting through life, finding some way through life that suits us, that works for us, is very important. Jupiter is the guide or key to the pathways through life.

Traveling to or relocating along this line will stimulate career-related activities, perhaps making it clear what would be a good livelihood to begin with or help you move to the next step in a career already in motion. It can be helpful to take a trip or vacation to such a spot and see if you get the new ideas you are looking for.

Jupiter in Eighth House

You'll find a lot of new resources at your command here, if you're willing to understand the terms on which they're offered. Treat others' treasures like they were your own, and they will be, at least in part. The benefits of sharing must be mutual and must renew the place from which they come -- do so here.

Natal Sun On DS (Medium)

You shine with a brighter light here, and you can put out more personal influence and have it match the surroundings more here than in other places. On the other hand, you can be pulled into an ego trip without really knowing it, as beckoning flattery can draw you out beyond your real supply line. Nevertheless, it will feel like your Sun is always rising and you're basking in the blooming light of day, because that's literally the case. After a fashion, you'll feel like you were born here and that your flowers were made to blossom in this fertile soil. That may or may not be a guarantee of long-term success, but it can do a lot to fuel it. Because you feel you're on familiar ground, you can project yourself with greater confidence, since you, in some very inner sense, "speak the language" and identify with local issues and culture. You'll be well-received for this very reason, but always remember that in some more temporal sense you're a "come-here" and not a "from-here," so don't overstep boundaries like you own the place. Speak from your heart and you'll be heard, but don't presume to speak from the hearts of others.

Natal Saturn Local Space Line (Medium)

Saturn is generally considered a pretty heavy planet, and probably not at the top of the list of places to visit by most. And this is as it should be, since Saturn brings rules, regulations, and restrictions, and these can easily appear as inhibitions, barriers, and delays. And this is probably the way Saturn does affect most of us. But there are cases where we need barriers, where rules and restrictions protect us. Saturn also represents the walls that make homes possible.

If you already, by nature, tend to be gloomy, somber, or too serious, then this is probably not a place you will enjoy. However, if you lack discipline and do well with directions or following rules, then this could be a source of strength and organization.

Saturn in Second House

You'll likely have to make more out of less, as financial support and resources for you here may be in short supply. What you do get will tend to last, but you won't get enough to waste. Economic habits acquired here, however, will benefit you greatly when you travel elsewhere, so you may have a lot to benefit from in the long run.

Natal Sun Local Space Line (Medium)

The Sun represents not only who you are right now, but also who you can be, given the opportunity to progress. The direction of the sun points to locations where success (career and potential) can be fulfilled, the point where the future unfolds. In these locations, outward development is furthered, and latent ideas and potential have a chance to emerge, develop and grow, and reach their full potential. The Sun has to do with the future, in that it is what, given the right opportunity, you can become or turn into.

The Sun is a place where your inner potential has a good chance to manifest, where, given the right encouragement, you can become all that you can be. This might be a great place if you suffer from too many feelings, too much darkness, and not enough light, for the Sun brings light and heat -- burning brightly.

Natal Neptune Local Space Line (Medium)

The Neptune line is all about inspiration, whatever it is that inspires us, and the pure flight of the imagination. Neptune places are ones where we can let go of differences, and where the sense of unity is greater than that which divides us.

A trip to a Neptune place can be filled with inspiration, whether of a spiritual nature or simply taking in some incredible music, theater, film, or poetry. These are places where you can just let your hair down and join in with those around you -- a deep sense of belonging and unity.

Neptune in Second House

Funds may have a way of dematerializing or generally slipping out from under here, so don't rely on resources you aren't thoroughly familiar with. It's not so much that they are unreliable, but rather that you misjudge them and think there is something there which is in fact something else. Spend on the side of caution.

Natal Mars Tri DS (Mild)

You should find your stamina level increasing here -- or, at least you find it easier to get the job done without having to waste extra energy. Your first stroke is usually the right one, so you save energy by not having to repeat efforts in order create accomplishment. Easy and invigorating.

Relocation Astrological Report for Shayn Smith

Mars in Third House

You're likely to have a very active social life here, propelled by the extra energy you put into making contacts with those around you. Indeed, you may find yourself generally the first to make a call and the quickest to return one. Accordingly, you can expect a daily intensity you may not experience elsewhere.

*C*C*G Planets on Angles*

Transits to Angles

Location charts respond to transits very much like your natal chart. Although Jupiter, for instance, may not be transiting your natal Ascendant right now, it is transiting your relocated Ascendant somewhere, and that somewhere is likely where you'll easily get a lot of extra attention and enhanced personal prospects if you go there or start doing business with people there. The same goes for the rest of the planets, so you can travel to seek or to escape their transits at the place of your choice.

Progressions to Angles

Although you can't escape your natal progressions, you can go experience them someplace else, particularly where a favorable progressed planet relocates right on an angle and thus gets extra emphasis. As with transits, your progressed relocation paths will tell you where it's happening according to the nature of each planet. Being that they are progressions rather than transits, the effect will be more internal than external, but noticeable all the same.

Relocation Astrological Report for Shayn Smith

Because you may find your attentions drawn to developing affairs on the home and career front this year, you may find some difficulty focusing on yourself alone here. In part that's because it's not about you right now, and you may need to find ways to personally get out of the way and become a part of the solution and not the problem.

Transit Uranus On DS (Medium)

Go here now to become a leader of the revolution, whatever revolution happens to be on tap here this year. This could be hazardous duty, but it won't be boring, for sure. If you're not getting your original approach and brilliantly unique ideas appreciated at home, try them out here, though perhaps at your own risk.

Transit Jupiter On IC (Medium)

Wherever you've found yourself here, it's time to expand the space you take up and put an extension on your dwelling. Get a bigger house, move to a larger room, lavish your surroundings with a generous hand. It's not just that others judge you by your house holdings, it is also how you take the measure of your own foundations.

Progressed Mars Tri DS (Mild)

You're in a several-year period of heightened effectiveness and strength here, possibly without being really aware of it. Just count up your recent daily progress, however, and you'll notice the difference compared to previous years. It's derived from getting into the rhythm of the place and thus wasting no energy.
